The Los Angeles Department of City Planning is announcing DTLA 2040.

INTRODUCING DTLA 2040

The Department has launched a new project website at DTLA2040.org to serve as your resource for all news related to the Downtown Community Plan Updates. Here you can find information about Downtown, the Plan Update process and objectives, related initiatives such as re:code LA and public outreach events. Finally, this site is a portal for the Department to hear from you.

DTLA 2040 – the update to the Central City & Central City North Community Plans and implementation through the re:code LA's new Downtown Zoning Code - will consider Downtown as we experience it today, but more importantly, will look forward to the Downtown of 2040.

The ambition of DTLA 2040 is to create and implement a collective vision for Downtown's future. The Plan will include goals, policies, and programs that frame the City's long-term priorities.

Please share with anyone you know is interested in the future of Downtown Los Angeles!

PUBLIC OUTREACH

Public outreach will be a key component of the DTLA 2040 work program over the course of the next year. The Department of City Planning with host a workshop on Wednesday, March 16th between 6:00 PM - 9:00 PM at the Metro Headquarters (view attached flyer). The Department will be gathering input on the Plan's core principles and strategies that use be used to develop preliminary plan concepts that will be implemented by the new Downtown Zoning Code. There will be interactive stations where you can get project details, mark up maps with your thoughts, ask questions, and tell us what you think! An overview presentation will be given near the beginning and will be repeated at the midpoint of the workshop.

The March 16th workshop is the first of 7 regional forums to gather input on the Citywide re:code LA Initiative. DTLA 2040 will have a significant presence at the March 16th event, and will also be featured in the following 6 forums, which will take place in varying geographic regions of the City.

We hope that you will participate in DTLA 2040 and that you will join us on March 16th!

DTLA 2040. Planning a dynamic future for Downtown Los Angeles.
